

Miss Sarah and Miss Ale

This month

We hope you all have a wonderful break and a great New Year! For January, we will continue implementing the Pyramid Model with our expectations of being safe, kind, and a team. We remind the children daily what it means to be safe and why other choices can be dangerous. During play, we praise them when we see something was done as a team, such as cleaning up, building a tower, or even being helpful to their teachers! In December, we started learning about Winter and will continue in January! We also introduced our letter friends; Willie Weasel, Sammy Snake, Inny Inchworm, and Missy Mouse!

Something to Try at Home

January is the perfect month to get outside for large-motor fun in the snow! Whether it means making a snow angel, building a snowman, or even a fort for a snowball fight! Our Parent Resource room has quite a few snow pants for this year's winter fun! Even if it is too cold outside, you can always bring the snow in for sensory play or snow ice cream! Shaving cream is an alternative for snow and fine motor activities, such as writing names and shapes.

Health News

Please remember to send your child with a winter coat, hat, and gloves every day. If you need to put your child's belongings in their bookbag, that would still be greatly appreciated! Our Parent resource room is open and has plenty of winter clothing! You can come by during school hours before 12/17/21 or after 1/2/22.
