This Month

This is an exciting time of the year, because we get the opportunity to have a Family Feast with our families. Please look forward for some fun activities to do at home with your children. Throughout the month, we will be teaching the children ways to be thankful and have gratitude. In the classroom, we will still be learning our alphabet and their sounds. We will be adding shapes and numbers slowly to our daily circle time. A few parents have begun to ask if they could come into the classroom, and we would love to have you volunteer anytime. We also want to thank everyone for working together with us to better your child's future. Thanks!

Pyramid Model News

Sharing and taking turns are important Friendship Skills for children to have in preschool. Many children start school without a lot of practice in this area. The good news is, we work on these skills daily! The children are learning that they may need to wait for the center of their choice if the maximum number of children are already in it. They take turns by setting a timer and waiting for it to finish before they can get their turn. They're also learning to ask a friend to share a toy or materials, but that they may not take it from them if they say no. They're learning that's when they'll need to get a timer or help from a teacher to take a turn with that item.
